WORLD AID FOR FAMINE DISTRICTS IS CHINA'S PLEA

Rain Falling But Work Animals And Seed Are Lacking

HOMES DESERTED

Years Will Elapse Before Effects Have Been Overcome

NEED IS GREAT

Loans Sought To Carry Out Railway And Road Projects

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

The public meeting that has been called by the Seven Provinces Famine Relief Association is to be held next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the building, now the property of the Bank of China, which formerly was the German Club on The Bund.

Representatives of the British and American Chamber of Commerce and of other organisations, including all the Chinese guilds, will attend the meeting together with the foreign consuls. The Seven Provinces Relief Association has opened offices in this building and these are in charge of Mr. C. Y. Sun.

A donation of $100,000 to the fund from the British American Tobacco Company was announced yesterday and another of $2,000 was received from the International Recreation Club.

Peking, September 18.—The Honan Famine Relief Committee at Kaifengfu has appealed to Reuter to circulate the following all over the world.

"The famine in Honan and the adjacent Provinces is more severe than can be conceived from any report yet published. The Civil and Military Governors have formed a Relief Society, composed of Chinese and foreigners of all classes and appeal for world assistance.

"Rain is now falling in this district but all work animals have either been sold or slaughtered and there is no seed or grain to plant for the Spring crops.

DESERTING HOMES

"The thrifty population are deserting their homes and wandering a thousand li to Shensi or to the South by railway, free of charge. It will take years for this district to get over the shock of the famine. Countless lives must be lost, unless help comes quickly."

Tientsin, September 19.—The leading foreigners here met last night, and conferred with delegates from the Chihli Relief Society with a view to forming an International Committee, and deciding on the best means for relieving the famine districts.

A strong committee was formed including the senior Consul, the chairman of each of the foreign Chambers of Commerce, representatives of British, American and French mission and other influential persons.

LOAN OF $1,000,000

The President of the Chihli Relief Society explained that the Province consisted of 120 districts, in 70 of which famine was already reported.

The Society had raised a loan of $1,000,000 from local banks for buying grain, to be sold at or below cost, and was also making an effort to find employment for refugees.

The meeting passed a resolution to the effect that: (1) the Committee should join any relief societies formed in the capital, and (2) Ministers should be approached with a view to raising loans to carry out work on roads railways, etc.

All speeches emphasised that the amount needed was far beyond what could be met from private resources, and urged the authorities to make an immediate start with relief works, so as to employ the largest number possible.

AID AT PEKING

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, September 20.—A meeting of British residents in Peking will be held this evening to appoint a committee to join the International Famine Relief Committee, which will co-operate with the Chinese organisation.

Waichow's Capture Is Confirmed By Telegram Received By Doctor Wu

Downfall Of Tsen Chun-Hsuan In Canton Nears As Kwangtung Forces Occupy Important Point Taken From Them By Kwangsi Men

The news of the capture of Waichow, the important gateway to Canton where the Southern war lords together with a number of pseudo-war lords are residing was confirmed yesterday by a telegram received by Dr. Wu Ting-fang, the Southern Constitutionalist leader in Shanghai. The fall of the city took place Saturday.

Kwantung troops on Thursday captured a hill guarding Waichow and entered the Waiyeung suburbs of the city in the afternoon. About nine battalion of Kwangsi forces surrendered. The main body of the Kwangsi forces retreated to the Waichow prefectural city and closed the gates.

It is reported that the commander of the Boccatigris forts has declared his independence from the Canton Government.

On Saturday, the Kwangtung troops bombarded the city proper and the inmates yielded without much resistance, being familiar with the seasoned troops of General Chen Chiung-ming and the aero squadron which has created quite a sensation in the South, especially among the Kwangsi warriors.

EXODUS FROM CANTON

Exodus has began from Canton. The families of the war lords are being removed to a safe distance from the guns of the victorious Cantonese army.

MILITARY REPORT

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Sept. 17.—The following communication was issued by the Military Government today:

"General Shen Hung-ying on September 15, attacked the enemy near Luikwanling and defeated the rebels, commanded by Hsu Shun-chi and Li Ping-yung, who retreated thirty miles.

"General Ma Chi defeated Tang Yuen-yen at Pingtan.

"Brigadier-General Loo Yen-shan and Colonel Liu Kiang engaged the enemy at Taiwongchuen. Severe fighting ensued.

"The Waiyang district is peaceful.

"It is reported from Waichow under date September 16, that General Ma Chi personally directed the fighting at Shuihou and Wanglik. A large number of the enemy were killed, several hundred rifles captured and more than a hundred prisoners taken."

The military authorities deny that General Ma Chi was wounded, as reported, adding that he returned to Canton on September 14 but left for Waichow on September 15.

FUKIEN IS QUIET

Hinghwa, Fukien, Sept. 15.—With reference to the operations in Fukien there is little disturbance in this section as it seems to be nothing more than a split in the Southern camp and not a contemplated invasion of Fukien. The report here is that Chen Chiung-ming who formerly took a portion of the Province from the north has had a falling out with Canton and Canton has decided to dislodge him. Chen Chiung-ming has lately been making friends with Governor Li Hou-chi.

There seems to be some good evidence as within the past few days the counties of Tehwa, Tatien Tehwa and Sienyu have been turned over to Governor Li's troops. Already Sienyu has been occupied by the Northern soldiers.

GIVES HEARTY WELCOME

The Southern forces met the soldiers and gave them a hearty welcome a week ago. Other forces are said to be under appointment to go to Yungchun. The report here is that these counties have been turned over to Governor Li who in turn is furnishing General Chen Chiung-ming with arms and ammunition.

Aside from the larger implications of this move the Sienyu people seem to be glad to have the change as they have been reduced to almost a state of famine by the treatment they have received during the past few years. There has not been a time for two years there that there has not been one or more splits in the so called Southern forces and continual fighting back and forth between them the people always suffering the most in these wrangles. Many citizens of Sienyu have spent the past two years in Putien County where they could be under the protection of the North. Thus the people have shown that of the two present evils they consider the Northern Government the lesser.

Japan Despatches Four Regiments To Shantung Cities

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, September 16.—The Peking Yi Shih Pao is in receipt of a special message from Tsinanfu to the effect that four regiments of the 17th Japanese Division arrived at Tsingtao from Japan on the 13th of this month. One regiment is to be stationed at Fangtze, on the line from Tsingtao to Tsinanfu; another will be located at Kaomi; a third at Tsingtao; and the fourth regiment will take up quarters at Tsinanfu.

Many of the Japanese troops sent to Shantung during the course of the recent Chinese civil strife are Formosans. These troops were originally placed along the right of way of the Tsinan-Tsingtao Railway, but have now been quartered in villages within the railway zone. The Chinese inhabitants of these villages greatly resent the presence of the Formosans, and refuse to deal with them, in every way offering passive resistance to their control.

JAPAN EXPECTS U.S. CONSENT TO SAGHALIEN DEAL

Tokio May Limit Emigration To America As Move Against Agitation

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 17.—The Times says there is reason to believe that America intends proving her good-will towards Tokio by withdrawing active objections against the Saghalien arrangement.

A Times telegram from Washington states that, according to the New York Times, the Washington Administration is willing to the grant of proper rights to the Japanese already in America, Japan will agree to prohibit Japanese laborers and farmers from entering the United States. Otherwise, unless some arrangement acceptable to California is quickly concluded, the United States will experience another of its periodical anti-Asiatic agitations.

The Democratic platform has a plank which pledges the federal government to support the views of the States concerned, and Senator Harding has recently made a statement to a similar effect.

The Washington government is determined to settle the controversy, and prevent further objectionable legislation in California.

SAGHALIEN NEGOTIATION

Washington, September 16.—Mr. Shidehara, the Japanese Ambassador, is empowered to negotiate with Mr. Bainbridge Colby, the Secretary of State, on the subject of immigration into Saghalien.

TO EVACUATE HABAROVSK

Tokio, September 18.—It is reported that the Government has decided on the evacuation of Habarovsk.

Vladivostok, September 18.—General Oi, the Japanese Commander-in-Chief, issued a declaration today, stating:

"In accordance with Japan's previous declarations when evacuating the Zabaikal, it was necessary to maintain troops in the Habarovsk district as a strategic point on the way to Saghalien and also for the purpose of maintaining order in the district.

POLITICAL IMPROVEMENT

The political situation has now so far improved in the Habarovsk district, that I have commanded the evacuation of the troops there.

In doing this, I hope to assist in uniting the Governments of the Russian Far East, whereby peace will be attained and good relations between the Japanese and the Russians secured."

Tokio, September 19.—The Japanese are busily engaged in developing the Saghalien oilfields.

FORTY ARRESTED IN GAMBLING RAID

Forty Chinese were arrested in a gambling raid late last night at 86-87 Segeebaika Road, an alleyway off Honan Road, by a squad of police officers and their assistants. The prisoners will probably be called before the Mixed Court today.

The raid was conducted by Sub-Inspector Gilbert, Detective Sergeants Kilkenney and Bridger and Sergeant Morgan.

HARDING DECLARES AMERICANS ARE MEDDLING ABROAD

(Reuter's Service)

Marion, Sept. 18.—Senator Harding, in the course of a Constitution Day address, pronounced the League of Nations Convenant irreconcilable with the constitution under which America has achieved nationality.

In a further speech to a deputation of foreigners, Senator Harding declared that nothing helpful had come from the willful assumption to direct affairs in Europe, but, on the contrary, the mistaken policy of interference had broken the drawstrings of good sense, and spelled bad council and bad manners all over the world. Meddling abroad tended to make Americans forget that they were Americans.

It was not beyond the bounds of possibility that the time might come—though might God forbid: when the hyphenated vote in American politics might have the voting power to threaten our Government. If this were so, American control might be transferred to foreign capital.

Socialists Ousted By N.Y. Legislature

New York, Sept. 17.—Five Socialists who were expelled from the New York State Legislature early this year on charges of disloyalty were re-elected at special elections held yesterday.

NEW WRIGHT SUIT

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Sept. 16.—The Wright Aeronautical Corporation has applied to the Federal District Court for an injunction, alleging that the Handley Page and Aircrafts Disposal companies have infringed a patent issued to Orville and Wilbur Wright and transferred to the plaintiffs in 1919.

COX COMPARES HIS OPPONENT'S STAND TO GERMANS' CRY

(Reuter's Service)

Salt Lake City, September 16.—Governor Cox, the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, in a speech here today, defended the League of Nations.

He asked whether anyone knew what the Republican candidate, Senator Harding's retort was to his defense of the League. Somebody shouted: "America first!" Governor Cox retorted: "What was Germany's war-cry? It was 'Deutschland ueber Alles' and the world rose against it and struck it down, for it was selfish and inhuman."

He added that, if their slogan was to be "America First," she must arm to the teeth; therefore his creed was "God Almighty First." The speech was loudly cheered.

JAPANESE QUESTION

San Francisco, September 18.—Governor Cox, in the course of a speech here today, referring to the Japanese land-owning issue, declared that the fundamental policy of the Democratic Party was that States should exercise "statehood rights" within the provisions of the Federal Constitution but to the United States was reserved treaty-making and the power of establishing the relations of the nations as a whole with friendly nations. "California," he added, "should not ask and I am sure she does not ask for any procedure in the Oriental settlement problem which cannot be accommodated to the general policy of the Government in harmoniously working out such agreements as must be made with friendly nations. At the same time, if California does not desire her lands to come into the possession of Orientals she may expect in consonance with established Democratic principles the genuine co-operation of the national Government in

MAIL BOMB PLOTTERS BLAMED FOR WALL STREET EXPLOSION

-:- William J. Flynn -:-

Head of the United States Secret Service who has undertaken the task of running to earth the dynamiters who set off a time bomb at the corner of Broad and Wall streets, New York, where are situated the American Sub-Treasury, building in which is stored many billions of the nation's bullion and currency and the great financial institution of The House of Morgan.

Culprits Within Four Blocks of Scene When Infernal Machine Acted

Former Attache Of French High Commissioner And Russian Journalist Among Suspects Taken Into Custody; 36 Persons Dead

(U. S. Naval Radio)

NEW York, Sept. 18—The investigation of the origin of the Wall Street explosion is being ceaselessly pursued by agents of the Department of Justice. These officials believe that the explosion was caused by a time bomb, placed by the same band of anarchists as were implicated in the mail bomb plots of June, 1919.

Secret Service Chief Flynn declares that he is positive that a bomb caused the explosion, adding that important developments in the last few hours have convinced him that bomb was placed by persons who were within four blocks of Wall and Broad Streets when the explosion occurred.

Six powder experts have given it as their opinion that the explosion was encased in a vehicle of old time design. The possibility of indentification is consequently held to be much greater than was at first expected.

Following on the receipt of an annonymous letter the police have arrested a Russian named Alexander J. Amhailovsky (or Brailovsky) described as a journalist. He is charged with being an undesirable alien. The arrest was effected in a stationer's store behind which is situated a printing shop where the Russian Voice, a new radical magazine, is published.

Amhailovsky, who has been handed over to the Department of Justice agents while his movements are being checked, denies all knowledge of the cause of the explosion. He was however seen in the financial district shortly after the explosion occurred.

WARNINGS SENT

Edward Fischer an ex-employe at the French High Commissioner's office was also been detained by the police. It is alleged that he sent postcards to friends warning them against the danger of an explosion.

In view of the alarming rumors of a widespread extremist plot, the financial centers of big American cities from coast to coast are like armed camps today, being guarded by police and private sentries against a possible repetition of the New York outrage.

The police are said to be running down some thirty different clues pointing to radical bomb plots.

Mark Prentiss, Chairman of the United States Clearing House of Foreign Credits, has handed the police a postcard which he received several weeks ago, and which containing the following warnings:

"Unless you put sterling, francs and marks where they belong, every bank interested in foreign credit will be blown to pieces." The postcard was signed "American."

THIRTY-SIX DEAD

The police have collected more than 150 pounds of broken window sash weights and other metal fragments which they are attempting to assemble and so reconstruct the bombs. Experts report that the explosive used was probably pieric acid.

The death roll is now placed at 36.

DROP COLLISION THEORY

(Reuter's Service)

New York, September 17.—The theory that the Wall Street explosion was caused by an explosive in a van detonating during a collision with a motor car has now been entirely abandoned.

The van which eye-witnesses saw is believed to have contained bombs with the fuses set to explode at noon.

The men in charge of the van are stated to have halted at the curb, seeking safety before the explosion occurred.

Searchlights played constantly on the scene of the disaster yesterday evening whilst workmen cleared the debris from the streets and from inside the buildings.

AUTHORITIES ALARMED

The Municipal, Federal, and State authorities are considerably alarmed at the possibility of a plot with wide ramifications.

Mr. J. P. Morgan's residence, the City Hall, the Court Houses, the Roman Catholic and Protestant Cathedrals and the homes of many prominent citizens are surrounded by special patrols.

The Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia Stock Exchanges are likewise guarded.

New York, September 17.—Now that panic has subsided it has

Bomb Is Exploded In Genoa Stock Exchange; Labor Situation Acute

Premier Is Accused Of Surrendering Government Into Hands Of Rebellious Workers And Promising Them Immunity

(U. S. Naval Radio)

London, Sept. 18.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch today said that a time bomb was exploded at the Stock Exchange in Genoa, Italy. Some property damage was done but there were no casualties. The dynamiters escaped.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 18.—It is reported from Rome that the labor situation has reached a very acute stage.

Signor Giolitti, having surrendered to the rebellious workers, is attempting to coerce the employers to accept a system of factory soviets upon the early Bolshevik model.

A Turin newspaper states that Signor Giolitti has intimated that the Government will not take action against the men who have committed excesses, nor allow those who are guilty to be dismissed.

Forty Senators have signed a protest, challenging the Government. The Senate will reopen this afternoon.

Milan, Sept. 17.—At a meeting of the Council of the Confederation of Manufacturers, attended by 200 delegates, a resolution was carried that control of factories, which is to be provided for in a bill which a special commission appointed by Signor Giolitti will draft, must not mean oppression of one class by another and that acceptance of the principle of control must be preceded by evacuation of the works occupied by the workers.

Paris, September 15 (delayed).—On his arrival in Italy from Aix-les-Bains, Signor Giolitti immediately sent M. Millerand a telegram thanking him for the cordiality of his reception in France and declaring that the Aix-les-Bains meeting was a manifestation of sincere friendship, "which will do much towards rendering more intimate the cooperation of France and Italy in the work of peace."

FRENCH PREMIER CORDIAL

M. Millerand replied that the meeting "confirmed the lasting entente between France and Italy."

M. Millerand arrived in Geneva today, to visit the International Labor Bureau, established under the Peace Treaty. The French Premier in the course of a speech praised the good work which the Bureau was doing in "cementing world peace."

According to the Excelsior a meeting between M. Millerand and Mr. Lloyd George is being arranged to take place within the next fortnight.

LLOYD GEORGE WRIES

Paris, September 19.—The following reply was sent by Mr. Lloyd George to the telegram of greetings from Signor Giolitti and M. Millerand at the close of their recent conference:

"My best thanks for the cordial message which you and Signor Giolitti sent me from Aix-les-Bains. I reciprocate warmly the feeling you have expressed. The primary question is the closest Entente between France, Italy and Great Britain—an Entente which is necessary for the solution of present problems.—Lloyd George."

CHINA TO TAKE OVER HANKOW'S RUSS HOLDING

Consul-General In City Will Be Withdrawn According To New Understanding

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Hankow, September 20.—It is reported here that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Peking is contemplating the taking over of the Russian Concession in Hankow under temporary Chinese control. It is understood that the Russian Consul-General will soon be withdrawn from Hankow in accordance with the understanding reached by the ministry and the Russian Legation in Peking.

TRADE AGREEMENT

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, September 18.—The provincial authorities in Chinese Turkestan have concluded a trade agreement with the Soviet Government at Tashkent, and this agreement has beeen sanctioned by the Foreign Office at Peking.

The terms of the agreement, which is drawn up in both Russian and Chinese, are set forth in ten articles which provide for the establishment of commercial organs in Chinese and Russian Turkestan, the appointment of commercial representatives by both governments and the confinement of commercial intercourse to certain places and routes.

The Russians, for instance, are permitted by the agreement to open trading centers at Ili and Ningchen and may ship goods from Russia to these places provided they pay the import duties fixed by the provincial authorities of Chinese Turkestan.

SEMENOFF BLAMED

Peking, September 18.—Reports from Manchuli indicate that Semenoff and his generals are acting in a manner which impairs Chinese sovereignty in this border town. The Cossack's men maintain control of the passport bureau which the Chinese Maritime Customs some time ago were ordered to take over, and examine passengers for passports on the trains of the C. E. R. R. within Chinese territory. The Customs have been unable to carry out their orders to take over the passport bureau owing to lack of military support, and General Kung, who succeeded General Kao who was removed on recommendation of the foreign advisors commission, is reported to be friendly to Semenoff to the detriment of Chinese interests.

AIR MAIL SERVICE

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, September 19.—An aerial mail service between Paris and Strasbourg will start on Monday.

been possible to gauge the extent of the disaster in the heart of New York City, and fortunately the number of victims turns out to be not so high as was at first feared. Thirty-three people have been killed, three of whom were women, while some 200 people have been wounded, some of them seriously.

OPINION OF EXPERTS

The police, fire and explosive experts are absolutely of opinion that the explosion was due to time-bombs loaded with TNT powder and iron slugs, and was the work of the "Reds."

Confirmation of this appears to have been found in the fact that a letter was sent to the French High Commissioner's office on Wednesday, warning the officials that a catastrophe would occur in Wall Street at "half-part two," but not mentioning a date. The police are searching for the writer of this letter.

Indian Government Rejects Proposal For Strike Inquiry

(Reuter's Service)

Simla, September 16.—An important debate arose in the Council of State today upon a resolution, demanding the appointment of a Committee of Inquiry into the labor troubles in connection with the recent strikes in the Government presses in Calcutta, Delhi and Simla.

The mover of the resolution advocated the abolition of the piece-work system as it was a very acute grievance and was responsible for the strike.

The Indian non-official Members supported the resolution, but the Government and other Members pointed out that the piece-rates were extremely generous and were necessary to stimulate the relative efficiency of Indian labor.

The resolution was rejected by 39 votes to 12 on the ground that such an inquiry would only prolong the strike.

APPOINT COMMISSIONER

London, Sept. 19.—It is officially announced that Sir William Meyer, for some years Financial Secretary to the Indian Government and afterwards a member of the Viceroy's Council, has been appointed as the first High Commissioner for India in the United Kingdom, as provided in the new Indian Reform Act.

Koreans Arrested As Plot Leaders

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, September 19.—The Jiji reports that the ringleaders of a dangerous Korean revolutionary plot have been arrested.

According to the journal, the plot which is alleged to have been planned by the Korean "Assassination Club" with headquarters in China, aimed at the assasination of Japanese officials and pro-Japanese Koreans.

Members of the "Club," it is asserted, were divided into groups whose task was to be to set fire to police stations all over Korea, and in the confusion which it was expected would ensue to start a revolution.

Universal Service Is Australia's Plan

(Reuter's Service)

Melbourne, September 17.—Speaking in the Commonwealth Senate today, Senator Pearce, Minister of Defense, made a statement supplementing the one made a week ago by Mr. Hughes, the Prime Minister, on the Government's defense policy.

He stated that a system of divisional organisation would be adopted, involving the abolition of State Commandants. The Universal Service Act would be revised, so that the period of training would be reduced from seven years to four.

Youths, he said, would become liable for service after their 18th birthday, and would undergo 10 weeks' training in the first year, and after that 16 days yearly. The peace establishment of the army would be 130,000.

State Insurance Planned At Tokio

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, September 19.—The Government denies the report that the nationalisation of hydro-electrical power is contemplated. It is pointed out that such a course is regarded as desirable but that lack of funds obviates its realisation.

A State insurance scheme embracing all Government officials is under contemplation.

RICE AT $17.50; DEAF EAR TURNED TO GUILD ORDERS

In spite of the decision of the rice guild in Nantao to place the limit of the best quality cereal at $14 yesterday, rice sold at $17.50 yesterday when the market closed. A deaf ear was turned to the decision of the guild made by the committee yesterday and the dealers maintained that they are unable to buy their stocks at less than $17.50.

The members of the committee of guild canvassed round the rice shops in person to keep the price down, but their efforts were of no avail.

The Chamber of Commerce, up to the present, has taken no action.

With but one cheap exchange open in Nantao, great hardship is being experienced among the poorer classes.

Heralds' Directors Scored By Premier On Russ Question

Lloyd George Declares They Are Dissembling Or Woefully Ignorant

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 18.—Mr. Ernest Bevin, of the Dockers' Union, and a director of the Daily Herald, has written to Mr. Lloyd George protesting against the suggestion, in a recent official statement, that the Herald would not have taken the public into its confidence regarding the proposed Bolshevik subsidy, had it not known that the secret could no longer be kept. Mr. Bevin says he regards this as a reflection on the four responsible trade union officials who are directors of the Herald.

Mr. Lloyd George, in reply, recapitulates the damaging disclosures already made concerning the negotiations between the Herald and the Bolsheviks, and concludes:

DIRECTORS SCORED

"I am insufficiently acquainted with the details of the management of the Daily Herald to be in a position to attribute individual responsibility. Nevertheless, it appeared to be inconceivable that directors who are really exercising business control over a concern of which they are trustess for the trade unions should not have been acquainted with what was going on. If they were ignorant, such ignorance on a vital matter is sinister comment on the control exercised by the trade union representatives on this organ."

Mr. Bevin, in answer to the foregoing, charges Mr. Lloyd George with side-tracking the issue with his usual ability, and not making his charges definite and explicit. He reiterates that the directors declined to accept the offer as soon as it came to their knowledge.

Yokohama Reports Serious Congestion At Customs House

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Yokohama, September 19.—The Custom House at this port is seriously congested with the huge flow of imports. Some 300,000 tons of imported merchandise are lying at the Custom House today and the glut is increasing daily.

A conspicuous feature of the present financial situation in Japan is the amalgamation of many banks.

McSWEENEY WELL TREATED SAY PRISON CHIEFS

Wife Of Lord Mayor Denies Report That She Plans Trip To America

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 18.—The Home Office has sent the following reply to a correspondent who enquired as to the nature of Mr. McSweeney's treatment:

"There is no foundation for the statements in the American press in regard to the prison treatment of the Lord Mayor of Cork. He has from the first been allowed the privileges granted to political prisoners. He has never been required to wear prison clothes.

GIVEN MUCH ATTENTION

"Since he has by his refusal of food reduced himself to a state of weakness, he remains in bed in a large room in hospital. He enjoys the best medical attendance. Trained nurses are with him day and night, and everything possible is done for his comfort. Excellent food, suitable to his enfeebled condition, is kept constantly at his bedside, and the nurses have done their best to induce him to partake of it."

London, September 17.—Mrs. McSweeney denies the report that she is going to America in order to appear before a tribunal inquiring into alleged Sinn Fein and British atrocities.

WILD REPORT CIRCULATED

London, September 17.—The Daily Chronicle's New York correspondent states that Mrs. McSweeney, wife of the Lord Mayor of Cork, is proceeding to America and will appear with De Valera before a so-called non-partisan tribunal, composed of 100 representative Americans, which is being established by the magazine, the Nation, to inquire into the charges of atrocities against one another by the British Government and Sinn Fein.

It is expected that the tribunal will begin its sittings at Washington in October. It is stated that the tribunal comprises Senators, Members of the House of Representatives, Majors, judges and leading men in professional, business and Labor circles.

KRASSIN KEEPS UP RUSSIANS' TRADE PROJECT

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 17.—In spite of what is tantamount to the ejection of M. Kameneff, trade negotiations are being continued by M. Krassin.

He has already concluded cloth contracts with Yorkshire firms involving £2,000,000, for delivery within three months.

Further announcements with regard to leather and machinery contracts will be made public at the earliest opportunity.

Trade Slump Presents Big Problem In Britain

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 19.—The present slump in trade is causing economists, publicists and employers anxiously to search for an industrial solution of post-war problems.

On the one hand there are thousands of unemployed in all parts of the country, with the prospect that during the winter their numbers will be trebled. At the same time, there are a number of industries—the most notable examples, perhaps, being coal-mining and house-building — whose persistent cry and imperative need is for increased output.

MENACE OF STRIKES

It is pointed out that the manufacturer, handicapped as he is by the ever-present menace of strikes, the Excess Profits Tax, labor unrest, trade union rules and the enormous cost of production, has reached a position of despair, as each of these five causes acts and reacts on each other.

One legacy of the war period has been slow timing, owing to the kindly treatment of munitioners, who now demand high wages for easy, slack work.

A typical instance of the operation of trade unionism is given by Lord Weir, head of a well-known Scottish firm of engineers, who has announced that he could employ another 2,000 men immediately, but is prevented from doing so by the workmen's rules.

VETERANS EMBITTERED

These not only hamper the employers, but are embittering ex-service men, who have returned from the battlefield to see the works crowded with exempted men. Returned soldiers are in many cases actually prevented by the trade unions from learning a trade. This is the root trouble of the housing shortage.

One solution advocated is to make wages depend upon powers of production and not upon the power of striking.

The Government, it is urged, must organise a general reconstruction and stabilisation of wages on an output basis, which will ultimately mean more money for all, while giving the manufacturer a firm basis on which to develop.

The danger of the country becoming over-paid and consequently under-producing must be avoided at all costs.

PRICES REDUCED

London, September 18.—Messrs. Rylands, the well-known Manchester firm, announces that it is following the example of Messrs. Horrocks in reducing the prices of all cotton goods by five percent.

London, September 17.—Messrs. Horrockses, Crewdson and Co., Ltd., the largest manufacturers of long-cloth and flannelette having announced a general reduction in prices of 5 percent, the management declared that this was the beginning of the long-promised break in the prices of dry goods.

Only a grave coal or some other strike, can send up the prices again. The move should affect 2,000 varieties of material, including ladies' dresses and underwear, and men's suitings. It should also affect the boot and outfitting trades.

Messrs. Selfridge and Co., Ltd., confirmed the statement that this was the beginning of a general break and declared that the public would have the benefit of the lower wholesale prices and that a general tendency for high prices to diminish would now begin.

HEARTS OF OAK

Oak has long been known as a wood of sterling qualities. The stoutest vessels which ever put to sea were made from English Oak; some of them are still to be seen lying at moorings, where they have lain for a century or more, unwanted, as out of date and dilapidated. The timber in them, however, is as good as the day when it was hewn from its forest home.

It is, then, a wood which will stand all the wear and rough knocks which either you, your children or your grand-children will be able to give to it, and then be a pleasure to look upon.

WE SUPPLY OAK FOR FLOORING, WAINSCOTING, PANELLING, ETC., ETC., KILN-DRIED AND QUALITY GUARANTEED

We give all orders personal attention. After you have placed your order with us, the flooring will be laid and all work carried out under the personal supervision of a foreign expert of the Company. This supervision costs you nothing, and we prefer to do this for you.

Insist that all lumber for flooring and panelling for interior work bears the "Three Pines" Trade Mark, and the letters "KD" signifying kiln dried, thus ensuring its perfect quality, and suitability for the severe climatic conditions in China.

Increased Output At Coal Mines Is Question Before Conference

Smillie Declares Workers Cannot See Reason Why They Should Increase Labor Before Wages Are Raised

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 17.—The conference between Sir Robert Horne, Minister of Labor, and the executive of the Miners' Federation was resumed this morning. After sitting for an hour and a-half, it adjourned its proceedings till Monday afternoon next.

London, September 17.—The official report of today's Coal Conference shows that the major part of the discussion revolved round the question of increased output.

(At yesterday's sitting Sir R. Horne said that if an increased output was assured, the advance in wages could doubtless be given.—Reuter).

Sir Robert Horne told the Executive that any increased output of coal would necessarily entail a review of the whole situation. His idea was that for all tons got above a certain basis line, the miners should get an advance. That would be a direct incentive.

STAND OF MINERS

Mr. Smillie said the miners had given up their claim that their two points were indivisible, and now Sir R. Horne was trying to make them believe that what they were actually quarreling about was the question of increased output. It was nothing of the kind, he declared.

Mr. Smillie asked why the miners should begin to increase the output for the purpose of increasing wages when the Government was already getting money to pay the increase.

He added that unless the increase was conceded the miners' other proposals need not be considered, and they would have to recommend to the miners' conference on Tuesday that the strike should take place.

Sir R. Horne remarked that he did not think it would be difficult to find a basis on which increased wages should be obtained, having relation to larger output.

DEVELOPMENT WORK

Mr. Smillie asserted that the diminished output was largely due to the fact that miners were engaged in development work in order to place the collieries, when decontrol takes place, in a condition for the employers to raise the output by an enormous amount.

Mr. Smillie added that they refused to consider Sir R. Horne's proposal to set up an industrial board to endeavor to increase the output of coal unless the advance of 2s. was given.

Sir R. Horne said he had ascertained that the colliery-owners were willing to meet the miners to discuss the question of output, and he urged that the miners should meet the employers on this question.

Sir Robert declared that all their efforts could now be directed to avoiding a conflict which would be very disastrous. He begged the miners to meet him again on Monday, to which Mr. Smillie agreed.

UNCOMPROMISING ATTITUDE

London, September 17.—The outstanding feature of today's Conference was the very uncompromising attitude adopted by Mr. Smillie towards Sir R. Horne's proposals, and at times it looked very much as if the negotiations would be broken off.

When Sir R. Horne suggested an adjournment for lunch, so that the miners should consider his proposals, Mr. Smillie replied that he did not think they need trouble to come back again, as, unless the increase in wages was conceded without further investigation, they would have to recommend a strike.

When Sir R. Horne suggested that the miners should meet him on Monday, Mr. Smillie said that if they met on Monday it would only be to give the reply he had given now.

MINISTER CONCILIATORY

Sir R. Horne replied that he regretted Mr. Smillie's attitude, but he did not like breaking off things. He desired to live on good terms with people. He urged the miners to meet him on Monday, after considering matters.

Mr. Smillie agreed, and the Conference adjourned, having achieved no definite result whatever. In fact a new deadlock in the coal crisis has been reached which it will be difficult to overcome unless the miners' leaders radically change their attitude before Monday's conference.

After their meeting with Sir R. Horne, the Miners' Executive sat in private conference for over an hour. They then returned to the various coalfields, to consult the miners.

SITUATION IS GRAVE

London, Sept. 18.—Owing to the fact that the Coal Conference today adjourned with Mr. Smillie's uncompromising insistence upon an immediate 2s. increase per shift without examination or further negotiation, the situation is again generally regarded as one of extreme gravity. Some circles believe that the miners will push their distaste to an inquiry to the extreme action of a strike.

After today's Conference members of the Miners' Executive declared that if the Government has said its last word upon the wages question, a strike is inevitable.

Sir R. Horne says the questions of wages and increased output are inseparable. Up to the present every fresh advance in wages has been linked up with diminished output, because, it is declared, every increase has merely stimulated a greater amount of absenteeism.

Peace In Industry Is Point Raised In Rail Question

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 19.—A powerful plea for industrial peace was made at Connah's Quay, Flintshire, this afternoon, by Mr. J. H. Thomas, M. P., the railwaymen's leader.

Dealing with the Government's offer to submit the question of miners' wages to an independent tribunal, Mr. Thomas suggested that, as the Government now possessed all the available data, it could settle the matter itself.

He justified the miners' demand for an increase of 2s. a day on the ground of the increased cost of living since March, and declared that the Government's decision that any increase in wages must immediately be put on the cost of coal for home consumption was unjustified. They were entitled to ask that the coal industry should be treated as a whole.

It would be a crime, Mr. Thomas declared, if a strike ensued. The miners were entitled to a fair deal. Their leaders were striving for peace, and they must be assisted.

He emphasised that, in view of the growth of unemployment and the seriousness of the country's financial position, the good-will of the workers must be obtained in order to increase output and stabilise industry. Industrial peace was essential to save the country. He called upon all to help in preventing what might prove to be the most disastrous and far-reaching struggle in the history of Great Britain—a struggle that could easily develop into something more than an industrial fight, and shake the Empire to its foundations.

SHANTUNG GENTRY SEEKING TO AIR THEIR GRIEVANCE

(China Press Correspondence)

Tsinanfu, September 16.—Two leading Shantung gentry, Liu Po and Wang Tan-chi, representing the citizens of Shantung province, have arrived in Peking to present the situation in that province before the central authorities. They report two recent mutinies of troops of the Frontier Defense under Ma Liang, one at Yenchow where Occupation Commissioner Tan Tien-hsi is in command, and one at Yung Cheng-hsien among Commander Wu Chang-chi's men. The populace suffered much at the hands of the looters, and demand that the soldiers be disbanded and their commanding officers punished.

The Shantung delegates also request that local self-government be restored to Tsinan, and that the Central treasury back the two million dollar issue of notes by the Shantung provincial treasury, $1,200,000 of these notes are now in circulation, but the provincial bureau of finance finds itself embarrassed in regard to their redemption.

Wu Offered Post As League Member

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, September 19.—As Lu Chen-hsiang has declined the Chairmanship of the Commission to study future relations with Germany and Austria and also to prepare matters connected with the League of Nations, the Government has offered the post to Dr. C. T. Wang.

Owing to the latter's refusal to become a member of the League of Nations delegation, the Government have offered that post to C. C. Wu, Dr. Wu Ting-fang's son.

Tang Tsai-chang, at present Director of the Labor and Immigration Bureau, will be appointed Councillor of the Wai-chiaopu.

A mandate was issued yesterday evening, appointing Hsia Show-kang, Civil Governor of Hupeh. Hsia Show-kang, who is at present Chief of the Administrative Court at Peking, was private secretary to Li Yuan-hung in 1911.

Sun Chen-chia, the present Civil Governor of Hupeh, is being transferred to the Metropolitan area as Taoyin.

The same mandate appoints Wang Hu Civil Governor of Kiangsu. He was formerly Special Commissioner to inquire into poppy cultivation in Kansu.

Millerand Is To Stay Out Of Race For Presidency

Premier Of France Determined Not To Seek Office Deschanel Vacated

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Sept. 17.—M. Millerand is apparently resolved in his decision not to become a candidate for the Presidency, despite the reiterated requests of friends and colleagues. It is stated that he has enunciated to his colleagues in the Cabinet the imperative reasons which, he considers, make it essential to decline the invitation. He will, however, retain the premiership.

The only other name to which at present prominence is given as a candidate for the Presidency is that of M. Jonnart, ex-Governor of Algeria, who has been previously mentioned as M. Millerand's nominee. M. Jonnart is apparently willing to stand, and is confident of election.

It is now announced that the cabinet has decided to summon Parliament to meet on the 23rd inst. to receive the communication of M. Deschanel's resignation.

According to Le Temps, this document is not a merely formal letter, but makes moving reference to the motives which have induced him to renounce the Presidency.

The National Assembly will meet at Versailles' a day or two later to elect his successor.

Le Matin says M. Deschanel's intellectual faculties remain unimpaired, and his brilliant wit is as sparkling as ever. His indisposition is due to faulty nerves, and he recoils from coming into touch with the outside world.

BUILDING WILL BE DEDICATED TO VICTIMS OF WAR

British Subjects Are Asked To Contribute Towards Cost Of Memorial

In a recent letter from London THE CHINA PRESS is asked to give publicity to a very creditable movement in that city to:

"Provide in the heart of the Empire a building dedicated to the memory of the men who made the great sacrifice, to be devoted to the interests of British subjects from across the seas for all time."

The prime mover in this scheme is The Overseas and Patriotic Club, and all British subjects overseas are asked to contribute something however small to this fund.

Premises have been bought at 23 Northumberland Avenue with the assistance of a loan and mortgage, and the chief necessity is to pay these off and allow the society to start off with a clean slate.

All remittances should be made payable to "Overseas Club and Patriotic League," crossed "Coutts & Co.," and be addressed to Evelyn Wrench, Esq., Chairman, The Overseas Club and Patriotic League, General Buildings, Aldwych, London, W. C. 2.

French and Japanese committees are in process of formation.

Liang Shih-yi was Chairman and Pan Fu and Hsu Shih-jang Vice-Chairmen at a meeting this afternoon in connection with famine relief work. Liang Shih-yi, in the course of an address, stated that he had already received some hundreds of piculs of seed grain and also donations of $100,000 each from Canton and the Bank of Communications.

He said that the most difficult problem was that of the children, for whom the foreign missions had agreed to give every possible assistance.

COSTS ARE LISTED

The cost of feeding a child was three dollars a month and assistance was required for eight months so that each $24 contributed would save one child.

The Chairman appealed to the Chinese and foreign press representatives, many of whom were present, to give wide publicity to the established facts connected with the famine for people did not realise the actual conditions. He also expressed the hope that the papers would assist in raising funds to which the pressmen responded heartily in the affirmative.

JAPANESE TO AID

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Peking, Sept. 20.—The Japanese residents in North China, headed by M. Obata, the Japanese Minister, are organising a famine relief society.

Presided over by Mr. Liang Shih-yi, Mr. Pan Fu and Mr. Hsu Shih-djang, brother of the president, a mass meeting was held in Central Park today. The meeting decided to adopt three measure, namely, to save children, to give the refugees labor and to supply seeds for the plantation of food cereals.

The saving of children will be conducted through the Christian missions who are to be supplied with ten cents per day per child.

The Southern Government has made a donation of $16,000 towards the relief fund, creating a good impression here.

The Agricultural Relief Association formed during the time of the war has amalgamated with the North China Relief Society.

Eight Vessel Are Involved In Suit

(Reuter's Service)

New York, September 16.—The Kerr Navigation Company, which is claimed as a subsidiary by the American Ship and Commerce Corporation, has been placed under an injuction not to interfere in the operation of ships of the Kerr Steamship Company, pending the decision of the court as to the rightful ownership of the vessels.

The action arose owing to the Government impounding $4,900,000, paid to the Kerr Steamship Company by the Commerce Corporation.

It is understood that the Government is claiming certain unpaid taxes. The question of the ownership of eight ships is involved.

LUMBER PRICE AGAIN SLUMPS

Announcement of a further slump in the price of lumber was made yesterday by the China Import and Export Lumber Company, taking the figure down to Taels 45 per thousand feet for cash purchases. This is in line with predictions made by prominent dealers a month ago, as published in THE CHINA PRESS.

The first break in price was from Tls. 65 per thousand feet to Tls. 50 which was brought about in the last weeks in August and at that time it was pointed out that a further decline might be looked for. The drop to Tls. 45 per thousand feet bears out this prediction.

SHANGHAI WINS LAWN BOWLS CHAMPIONSHIP BY BEATING HONGKONG STARS---SCORE 20-18

In Great Game At Race Course Visitors Lose At Final End; Hankow Go Under To Southern Bowlers Sunday

By "Skip"

A great game was witnessed yesterday by a large crowd of spectators, including many ladies when Shanghai and Hongkong met in the Interport struggle.

Shanghai got well away at the start and secured a lead of ten points before Hongkong scored, but by a coincidence the visitors replied with exactly the same score in the same number of ends.

The score read 10 all at 10 ends. Shanghai here got in a one and a four and Hongkong a brace and a single. Each side took turns to add to their score and at the 20th end Hongkong again were level the score reading 18 all and one end to go.

The crowd all swooped down to the finishing end with their hearts in their mouths and the excitement was thrilling but George Dunlop managed to get a "top notcher" right on the Jack and that was the signal for Shanghai to build up. All efforts of the visitors to get the Jack failed and Shanghai were left winners by the narrow margin of two points.

Lapsley played a magnificient game for Hongkong and saved on several occasions when Shanghai were lying four and three. His "tick tacking" was a novel feature in skipping and tickled the crowd. All his instructions were given by signs, which shows a perfect understanding between players.

Farrell also was extra good and Muirhead and Pile played exceedingly well, the former's struggle with Dunlop being a feature of the game.

Shanghai's four played solidly together and experienced hard luck several times. They never gave anything away and deserved their win.

The teams were: Hongkong: R. Lapsley (skip), P. Farrell, A. G. Pile, J. Muirhead..

Shanghai: J. T. Disselduff (skip), R. C. Aitkenhead, D. McAlister, G. Dunlop.

Hankow Again Loses

Hankow got their second defeat in Club matches yesterday at the Race Course, when the Recreation Club won a very interesting game by 8 points. The play all through was very good and the decision practically came in the last 3 ends when the "Recs" secured six to their opponents nil.

All the players played well and combined splendidly. The teams after the match were entertained to tiffin in the Club Pavilion and the Hongkong contingent also participated.

The teams and scores were:

Hankow: S. J. Godwin (skip), P. Paul, J. W. Burtwell, G. B. Miller 13.

Recreation Club: H. Veitch (skip), J. Shaw, R. Phillips, T. Poignand 21.

Recs v. Hongkong Today

The Recreation Club will play the Hongkong team today on the Race Course (Rec's ground) at 3 p.m. sharp.

Hankow vs. Hongkong

The Hongkong lawn bowls team decisively defeated Hankow in the interport match on Sunday at the Race Course, and created quite a good impression by their style of play. Hankow failed to reproduce the form they displayed against Shanghai and furthermore were distinctly out of luck. Miller and Burtwell were slightly off color, but Godwin played excellently. Many well delivered woods just failed to achieve their mission, often missing by the narrowest margin. Paul was most unfortunate in this respect.

Hongkong gave a splendid all-round exhibition on a fiery green, and adapted themselves to local conditions with remarkable quickness. Muirhead maintained a good length throughout. Pile was a trifle short but will improve. Farrell was a host in himself and played a great game, whilst Lapsley skipped in a quiet but masterly manner. The southerners should give the locals quite an argument during their stay here.

Hongkong opened against Hankow with a three and added another at the fourth and, whilst Hankow got two singles. The game continued very even up to the eighth, when the score read Hongkong 7, Hankow 6.

Hongkong here had a remarkably good run, scoring 18 in 8 ends, including 2 fours, a five and a three.

Hankow could only reply with three pairs and a single. The result was a win for Hongkong, 29 points to Hankow's 13. The teams were:

Hongkong: R. Lapsley (skip), P. Farrell, A. G. Pile and J. Muirhead.

Hankow: J. Paul (skip), S. J. Godwin, J. W. Burtwell and G. B. Miller.

15TH INFANTRY TEAM COPS TITLE

Defeats Filipino Ball Club For Championship Of U. S. Army In Orient

(China Press Correspondence)

Tientsin, September 15.—The fifteenth Infantry won the Army championship of the Philippine Department today by defeating the fourth Philippine Infantry in the third game of the series, 1-0.

Bame pitched a beautiful game for the fifteen allowing only one scratch hit up to the ninth inning, when a pinch hitter singled for the second and last hit.

The fifteenta collected six hits, and only fast fielding kept them down to a single run.

This game ended what has been probably the best series ever seen in Tientsin. Only four runs were secored and nineteen hits made by both teams in the entire three games.

The fourth won the opening game 2-0, Liboon, the little southpaw of the Filippinos, twirling a no-hit game. Bame also picked well in this game, holding the fourth to four hits and, with perfect support, would not have been scored on.

Hutchinson for the fifteenth copped the second game, of the series, beating Birtulpo, the big right-hander of the fourth in a pitcher's battle, 1-0. Hutchinson won his own game by singling and stealing second and third and scoring when a throw to third to catch him off the bag, hit him in the back, and rolled towards left field. This game evened up the series.

In the last game, Liboon, the south-paw hero of the first game, again faced Bame. But this was Bame's day and he was not to be denied. Only 28 men faced him during the entire nine innings and only two hits were gathered by the Filipinos.

Oberkofler scored the only run of the game in the fifth, when he singled and went to third on Madge's single and scored on Bame's sacrifice fly to right.

The winning of this series was especially sweet to the 15th Infantry because the Filipinos had just finished drubbing the Marines, two out of three, in Peking. The last game in Peking was a rout. The 4th gathered 20 runs to 1 for the Marines.

Leitao Wins Title In Tennis Tourney

After winning the preliminary rounds with a combination of luck and sound play, Mr. A. Leitao, playing a remarkably fine net-game on Sunday afternoon, took the Range Tennis Club's singles championship and the "Elvie" cup from Mr. S. A. Collaco.

Mr. Collaco started very well, winning the first set at 6-2, but Mr. Leitao was not shaken. Driving with a very good length to the base-line and rushing up to the net, he took the next three sets very easily. The final score read 2-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2, in favor of Mr. Leitao.

Mr. Leitao has the distinction of defeating the last year's champion, Mr. V. O. Remedios in the second round, the score being 8-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1.

GOOD RECORDS MADE BY BOYS IN WATER RACES

Excellent records for distance swimming in the face of obstacles were scored Saturday by pupils of the Thomas Hanbury School for Boys in trials conducted in the Whangpoo above the city at Pagoda Reach.

In recent tests conducted in the Public Swimming Bath 42 pupils of the school passed the test for efficiency in swimming and of these 11 entered for the long distance tests that were held yesterday under the direction of Mr. A. J. Stewart, headmaster of the school.

Through the courtesy of Mr. C. S. Taylor of the Shanghai Yacht Club the school party consisting of the swimmers with Mr. Stewart and assistant masters were taken up the river on Mr. Taylor's motor boat the Irene which towed two sampans carrying life buoys and other equipment.

The contestants were started over a measured course followed by sampans. In view of the fact that the surface of the river was not only choppy but also held a film of oil the swimmers achieved a remarkable showing against an adverse wind. The results of the contest are given as follows:

Three-quarters mile—A. Gray.

Half mile—J. Mollem

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Save the Babies.
INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!
We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.
The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria
Physicians Recommend Castoria.

Italian Court Dismisses Case Against F. Parlani Charged With Opium Sale

Holding that the authority of charging a fee for the keeping of opium shops is no longer vested in the Municipal Council since it has lost the right of issuing licenses for such kind of shops, The Italian Consul, yesterday dismissed the charge brought in the Italian Consular Court by the police against F. Parlani of the Sino-Italian Dispensary for the sale of opium without having a license.

Mr. R. C. Faithfull prosecuted for the police, while Messrs. Isaac Mason, S. S. Fong and Y. T. Ling watched the case on behalf of the Anti-Opium Association. Lengthy evidence was introduced by the prosecution. It was testified that the sino-Italian Dispensary has opened premises for the sale of opium in several localities in the Settlement, namely 240 Canton Road, 256 and 357 Hupeh Road and 42, 47, 48 and 57 Chekiang Road.

CUSTOMERS TESTIFY

Sung Ah-doo and Zee Hsu who said they purchased opium at these premises testified.

Accused denied having sold opium in his shop, but admitted having sold certain anti-opium drugs.

It is shown by the prosecution that some of the tins of opium said to have been purchased in these stores had been marked as anti-opium drugs.

The judgment of the consul follows:

"These are charges against F. Parlani, an Italian citizen, for that he did, on the 26th day of August, 1920, keep shops for the sale of opium without having first obtained a license from the Municipal Council.

"The Police have brought forth sufficient evidence to show that certain tins of opium were sold on the 26th day of August, 1920, at the premises and godowns of the Sino-Italian Dispensary, N240 Canton Road, 236-7 Hupeh Road, 42, 47, 48, 57 Chekiang Road.

NOT SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE

"This evidence however is not sufficient to prove that the premises in question are kept by accused for the sale of opium: as a matter of fact, there are no signboards or posters advertising the sale of opium to be seen there, nor does it appear that opium represents the main article of trade of the Sino-Italian Dispensary, where different kinds of patent medicines are alleged by accused to be sold.

"Accused disclaims any knowledge of the sale of opium and on the other hand the Police are not alleging that opium was sold by accused himself.

"These being the facts, I find that accused has only, if any, a civil responsibility towards the Council for the simple amount of the fee which would be due for the license to be issued under By-law XXXIV, but I cannot avoid pointing out that the authority of charging a fee for the keeping of opium shops is no longer vested in the Municipal Council since it has lost the right of issuing licenses for such kinds of shops. Consequently I do not see how the Police could prosecute under a by-law which no longer applies in this case.

PUT UP TO POLICE

"The only action, in my opinion, that may be taken by the Police, is to identify the persons who did actually sell opium at the premises in question, and prosecute them in the proper Court for the offense committed if their law makes an offense of the selling of opium.

"Therefore I have to dismiss the case.

"But before doing so I have to remark that it has been disclosed during the hearing that the Sino-Italian Dispensary has opened premises for the sale of drugs in several localities in this Settlement.

"This is quite contrary to a specific provision of the Italian Law on Dispensaries, each individual or Company being entitled according to the same, to the license for only one Dispensary this having to be in charge of a properly qualified dispensing chemist.

"I, therefore, advice the Police to make further inquiries as to the nature of the premises which are styled "godowns" of the Sino-Italian Dispensary, and as to the qualifications of the manager of the Dispensary itself, reporting to me at an early date the result of such inquiries, in order that I may take these steps which will be necessary for the upholding of the Italian law."

More Railways Need Of Siam Says Prince

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 16.—Prince Purachatra, of Siam, in the course of an interview published in the Evening Standard, emphasised that the railway system of Siam was steadily growing, but was still capable of vast expansion. He hoped that ere long they would have a complete network of railways radiating from Bangkok throughout Siam.

He urged the necessity for employing only the latest methods of road construction, as no second-best was good enough for Siam. He concluded by declaring that his great aim in life was to give Siam a perfected system of transport, without which in his opinion, no social amelioration was possible.

U.S. Ship Owners Opposing Germans

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 16.—The Times New York correspondent telegraphs that the American Steamship-Owners' Association has passed a resolution emphasising the hostility of American shipping interests to any contract with the Hamburg-America line whereby the Germans would be aided towards the restoration of their world trade.

The resolution further opposed any action by the United States Shipping Board whereby American tonnage would be placed at the disposal of Germans, and appealed for the retention of American ships by American interests.

Rubber Conditions Expected To Improve

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 14.—The Indiarubber Journal takes a hopeful view of the prospects in the rubber industry, while admitting that there is undoubtedly more rubber being produced than can be used.

It expresses the opinion that this is temporary and that with the resumption of normal conditions the manufacturing industry can use all the rubber, which can be produced from the present planted acreage, and in the future will require more rubber than that acreage can produce.

Meanwhile, however, the writer estimates that the unabsorbed surplus of rubber at the end of December next will be 40,000 tons, not including the large unabsorbed stocks in the consuming countries.

ELLIS ISLAND SWAMPED BY EUROPE CROWD

Steamers Held Up Because Of Immense Numbers Of Immigrants

(Reuter's Service)

London, September 15.—An unprecedented wave of immigrants is flowing into the United States and is threatening to swamp the Immigration service.

The steamship companies have issued notices that inward-bound steamers will be filled to the utmost with steerage passengers for months ahead.

Ellis Island is unable to accommodate newcomers and consequently steamers are being held up.

It is estimated that 250,000 Jews from Poland will arrive during the next 12 months, which is causing the authorities a certain amount of uneasiness owing to the fact that typhus and other epidemics are raging in Poland.

However the immigrants who are arriving are generally of a better class than those before the war and possess more money and belongings.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Sept. 18.—The plans of the so-called "Big Five" group of meat-packers to sell their stockyard interests, as required by decree, to the F. H. Price Company, have been disapproved by the Federal Trade Commission, on the ground that the sale would not divorce the packers from the interests concerned.

Egypt's Freedom Is Given Recognition

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, Sept. 18.—The Egyptian Legislative Assembly has passed by 44 votes to 3, a resolution accepting the principles of the agreement reached last month between the Milner mission and the Egyptian mission as the suitable basis for a treaty, which should be submitted to the National Assembly, it being stipulated that the Assembly should have the right of acceptance or rejection.

DOES YOUR CHILD SUFFER FROM THEM?

Many children in this country are troubled with worms, some of the indications of which are irregular appetite, bad breath, grinding of the teeth in sleep, pain and swelling of the abdomen, irritation in the nose. Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, given for a few days destroy worms, and a marked improvement in appetite and general health follows.

"I would like to make known to all mothers the great value of Baby's Own Tablets," writes Mrs. J. R. Baker, of Lower West Jeddore, N. S., Canada. "My little girl, four months of age, was badly troubled with worms, and I did not appear to be able to get anything to help her permanently until I began using Baby's Own Tablets. She then improved almost at once, and I can sincerely say that they are all they are claimed to be and I would not be without then in the house."

Quaranteed free from opiates and absolutely harmless even to the youngest infant, Baby's Own Tablets are a remedy for indigestion, constipation, simple fever, diarrhoea and teething troubles. They are obtainable from chemists, also at 60 cents the vial post free from the Dr. Williams' Medicin Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

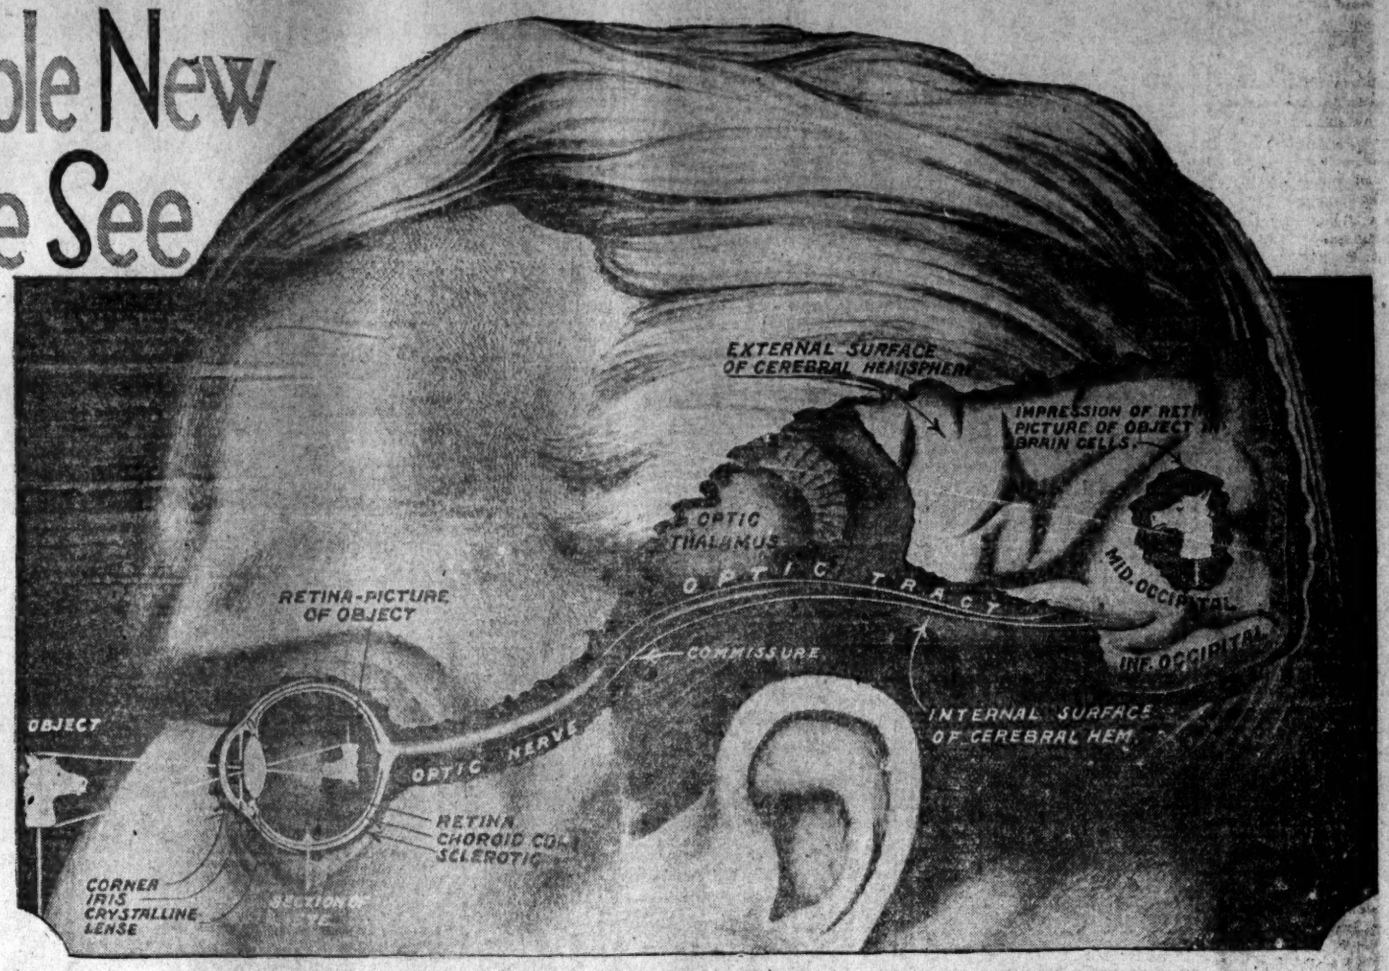
Science's Remarkable New Theory of How We See

Experiments That Seem to Show Our Visual Impressions of the World About Us Are Only a Series of Little Electric Shocks Carried Through the Eye Into the Brain



How the Outlines of an Object Before the Eye Are "Telegraphed" Into the Receiving Station in the Brain. The Rods and Cones in the Retina of the Eye Correspond, It Seems, to Selenium or Photo-Electric Cells. Thus When Different Gradations of Light Impinge Upon Them They Cause Currents of Varying Strength to Pass Along the More Than 2,000,000 Fibres Composing the Optic Nerve—Like the Wires in a Telephone Exchange—to the Proper Sight Cells in the Brain, Energizing Them and Causing Them "to See." (Diagram printed by permission of "Science and Invention," formerly "Electrical Experimenter.")

By Dr. W. H. Ballou.

ALTHOUGH the sense of sight is one that we take for granted, it is, nevertheless, in essence one of the great mysteries of life. What is it that enables us by means of the small sphere of the eyeball and the optic nerve leading from it into the brain actually to see? What is it that draws within our brains pictures of all the movements and all the colors of what is going on around us?

This mystery, in the light of the newest discoveries by science, appears to be on the verge of being solved, if, indeed, it is not already solved. Science now puts forth the theory that the sense of sight is an electrical phenomenon; that the retinas of our eyes upon which the rays of light which carry the pictures we see impinge are in reality collectors of electrical impulses, and that these impulses are carried by the wires of the optic nerve into the brain, and thereby a most cunningly arranged mechanism converted into the figures and colors which we call sight.

This theory has, curiously enough, been built up from a number of different sources of investigation working separately and independently. The English body of scientists whose experiments and conclusions are printed in the Philosophical Magazine and Journal of Science of London, Edinburgh and Dublin, were carried to their conclusions by a study of what it is that produces color vision. They found to their own satisfaction that color is the result of electrical discharges in the molecular structure of the retina set free by the impact of waves of light of varying intensities upon these structures. These electrical impulses carried on to the brain produce in the brain cells which receive them the sensations which we call red, blue, green, etc.

It has, of course, long been known that color is the result of varying wave lengths of the electro-magnetic disturbance called light. Slow waves of a certain length produce what we call red. Extremely rapid waves of short length produce what we call violet. The new point is that these waves, electrical in nature, produce their effect upon our visual organs electrically.

H. Winfield Secor, member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and an internationally distinguished expert upon such matters, points out in the current number of Science and Invention, formerly the Electrical Experimenter, some other surprising discoveries on the subject.

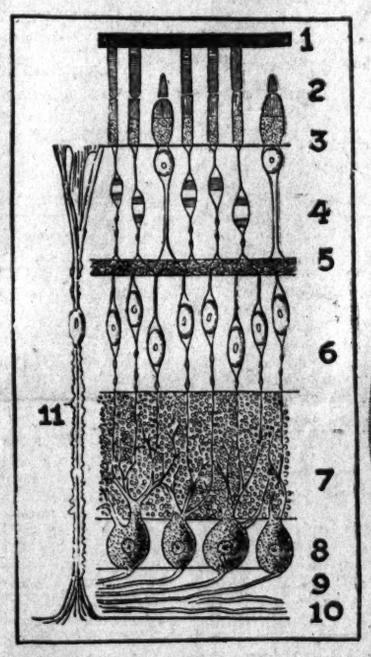
In its simplest possible terms the mechanism by which we see consists of two globes fitted with lenses through which the light waves pass to strike upon a curtain at the back of these globes which is called the retina. The retina is an extraordinarily complex structure composed of pigment cells, a layer of curiously shaped microscopically small bodies called from their shapes the rods and cones, layers of nerve cells and the filaments that connect these rods and cones with the cells.

Into the retina the optic nerve penetrates to about an eighth of an inch, presenting at this point a small rounded elevation perforated in its centre for the passage of the central artery of the retina. There are, of course, other elements in the retinal curtain, but those mentioned seem to be the only factors that are directly concerned with the reception of optical impressions—that is, they are the mechanism that is the first step toward our seeing.

The layer of rods and cones is composed of small cylinders extending through its entire thickness, closely packed and giving to the external surface the appearance of mosaic; between these is a greater or less number of flask-shaped bodies—the cones. This layer is about 1/330 of an inch in thickness at the middle of the retina, 1/400 of an inch about midway between the centre and the edge, and near the edge about 1/450 of an inch thick. The rods have a diameter of 1/1300 of an inch. They are clear, of rather a fattened lustre, soft and pliable and somewhat brittle.

It is a curious thing that shortly after death each of these rods shows under the microscope to become divided by a delicate line into an outer and an inner segment. The cones are of the same constitution as the rods and about half their length.

Upon this curtain falls the image that we see. This image we do not see upon the eye itself. It is carried back by the "wires" of the optic nerve into the centre in the brain where the image actually comes to our consciousness.



A Sectional View of the Retina of the Human Eye, Highly Magnified. 1—Macula Lutea, (Yellow Spot or Pigmentary Layer) Without Nerve Fibres; 2—Jacob's Membrane, Containing Only Long and Narrow Cones; 3—Thin Membrane; 4—Outer Nuclear Layer Containing Rods and Cones; 5—Outer Molecular Layer; 6—Inner Nuclear Nerve Layer; 7—Inner Molecular Layer; 8—Nerve Vesicles; 9 and 10—Fibrous Layer; 11—The Connecting Fibre of Muller.

In a way of speaking, the consciousness sitting within the dark chamber of the brain looks into this mysterious group of brain cells and sees reflected there what has passed through the eye. We only think that we see with the eyes—as though they were windows in the head—which, of course, everyone knows they cannot be.

As a matter of fact, if we saw simply with the eye we would see everything upside down, because the images of things about us are reflected in that way upon the retina. Between the retina and the brain cells which receive the final electrical impulses carrying the image things are righted again in a manner which is not quite understood. As Secor points out in his article:

"The light and shade values of the image cast on the retina fall on a series of what are now supposed to be minute photo-electric cells, covering the rear inner-hemisphere of the eyeball, and there are over 2,000,000 of these cells or rods and cones, as the physiologist calls them. Each one of these light-sensitive cells connects to one of the more than 2,000,000 fibres constituting the optic nerve—the great nerve of sight, which passes up through the head to the rear of the brain or region of sight. The hundreds of thousands of optic nerve fibres, each corresponding apparently to a fine electric wire in a telephone exchange, terminate at a certain cell in the brain. Thus when we see an image, a person's face, for example, there is simultaneously stimulated in the brain a complete pattern of particular cells, which probably reconstruct the image perceived. And the result is that we do not see the object we look at upside down, but right side up!

"It is now thought that when the various points of light pass through the lens of the eye on to the rod and cone layer of the retina at the rear of the eye, extremely minute electric currents are set up and pass along the respective nerve fibres (remember, there are over 2,000,000 of them) to the cells of sight located in the brain, and it is at this point where we interpret the image or picture which the eye beholds, and not in the eye itself, as is often popularly supposed."

There is a curious metal in which, by the action of light upon it, an identical effect such as that being discussed is possible. This metal is called selenium. Its peculiarity is that the rays of light falling upon it set up within it a mild electrical current, and this current varies in intensity according to the intensity of the light that strikes it. It is possible to send photographs over wires and through great distances by means of selenium. This is done by utilizing a great number of small cells of the metal, each of which is connected by a wire to the sending cable. The image of the picture to be sent is reflected upon this mass of cells, which are arranged, approximately, like the close-packed rods and cones in the eye. Each variation of light and shadow of the reflected image sets up a varying electrical current in each cell. These currents pass over the cable to another arrangement of selenium cells, which in their turn are correspondingly stimulated, and by a certain arrangement then print the exact tones of darkness and light to which the electrical impulses correspond.

In this way a duplicate is made of the pictures at the far end of the wire.

The same principle and the same metal are used in a machine that enables the blind to read by means of the ears. A receiver composed of the selenium cells passes over the letters of the book. The different electrical impulses caused by the shadow of the shape of the letters striking the sensitive selenium cells is transformed into a characteristic sound, and as soon as the blind learns to distinguish between these sounds he is able to read.

And regarding this, it is a fact that the blind man usually conceives different colors as sounds. Walter Holmes says:

"I once asked my brother, blind from infancy, to tell me his ideas of color, for he always asked the color of each new article he 'saw.' He told me that he got great satisfaction from knowing the color of things, but I found the realization of each color came to him as a sound. He said he knew that 'red' was a dazzling color, and that when one told him a thing was red it came to him as a shrill whistle; he knew that the foliage was green and a restful color, and when told a thing was green it came to him as soft music."

Other experiments have shown that the sensation of light can be produced in the brain centres independently of the eyes. C. E. Magnussen and H. C. Stevens, of the University of Washington, placed a solenoid or electro-magnetic cylinder over a man's head and kept him in absolute darkness.

When the electric current was turned on he reported that he saw lights. The form of the light varied with the intensity of the current.

From these experiments it has been reasoned that it may be possible to train blind men actually to see images with their brains. If the electric current can produce various forms of light in the brain it should theoretically be possible to control these forms so as to represent real objects.

That the blind possess the power of forming images in their brains of objects touched by their hands is well known. Here then we have the visual cells, cut off from actual sight, responding to the vibrations of touch and forming images in precisely the same manner as though the eyes were active. But it is a fact that the images from touch are different from those from the eyes. Professor C. F. Fraser, LL. D., a distinguished medical scientist of Nova Scotia, who is blind himself, details some interesting experiments upon this phase of the matter.

The professor experimented with eighty blind pupils and asked them to tell how many sides of a cube they could see with their minds. Those who had lost their sight at sixteen and upward visualized correctly, seeing three sides of a cube. Those who had lost their sight after reaching four years of age visualized imperfectly, seeing four or five sides of the cube at once. Those who were born blind or became blind shortly after birth lacked true visualization—thirty-three declaring that they saw six sides of the cube at once, while three of them saw but one side. This shows that in educating a blind person the instructor deals with a different mind from the normal.

Many blind persons have developed the sense of smell to an acuteness that enables them to recognize odors that are absolutely unnoticed by ordinary persons. This power is particularly developed in the deaf and blind. Laura Bridgman, the famous deaf-mute blind girl, could always recognize anybody she had met before by the smell of his hand or glove. If she met a stranger she invariably smelt his hand, and could invariably recognize him thereafter by the same means.

Blind persons who have once been able to visualize always see in their dreams.

In many cases the blind man "sees" more than one with good eyesight. The seeing man naturally sees only that side which is turned toward him. The blind man sees six sides of a box at once if he can hold it in his hand. If it is larger he may see two or three sides at once. In any case, the inspection of an intelligent blind man is more thorough than that of a seeing man who judges by appearance.

It may indeed be true that all our senses are nothing but results of different kinds of electrical impulses. The nerve current is unquestionably electric, and it has recently been pointed out by a European investigator that the nerves and nerve fibres are indeed like many electric wires, for several reasons—principally because it has been found that these parts of the human body are covered throughout with a fatty insulating covering, and, as this authority has suggested, it would seem to show that this insulated covering on the nerves and other component parts actually serves to preserve the electric potential and natural charge of the body. In certain diseases these insulations break down, causing the electric charge of the body to become markedly lowered.

CUSTOMS NOTIFICATION

No. 955.

Drawbacks to be Paid by Cheque After 1st January, 1921

Acting under instructions from the Inspector General of Customs, I hereby notify the public that beginning from the 1st January, 1921, all Drawbacks, whether for foreign or for native re-exports and Special Drawbacks, will be issued in the form of cheques payable at sight and in cash at the Bank of China, No. 3 Hankow Road. Chinese Drawback Certificates as issued at present will no longer be issued after 31st December nor accepted in payment of duties after that date. Such Drawback Certificates issued on or before 31st December, 1920, and remaining unused after that date will have to be presented to the Drawback Office to be exchanged for cheques.

Drawbacks due to a merchant will be paid in instalments twice a month by means of one Drawback Money Order (i.e. cheque). These cheques will be cashed on presentation by the merchants to the Bank of China. Merchants will be required to keep a "Drawback Register" similar to that kept, and according to the form prescribed, by the Customs. A pro forma page of the new "Drawback Register" to be used will be issued to merchants on application at the Drawback Office so as to enable them to have their Registers printed and bound before 1st January next. When desiring to claim Drawbacks, a merchant should proceed to the Drawback Office and there present his "Register" for comparison with the Customs Register.

From the 2nd to the 7th and from the 16th to the 21st of each month merchants are requested to bring their Registers to the Drawback Office to be checked. No cheques will be issued during these two periods. Cheques will be issued during the periods from the 8th to the 15th and from the 22nd to the end of each month.

Merchants should endeavour to claim Drawbacks, i.e. compare Registers, and cash their cheques within three months from the date of re-export. The Bank of China has been instructed not to accept Drawbacks in payment of duties after 31st December next and not to cash cheques issued under the new system and presented for payment after the prescribed three months' limit, without special authority from the Commissioner of Customs.

The above system of paying all Drawbacks in cash is experimental and will be withdrawn if found unsatisfactory. It is hoped that merchants will do their best to co-operate with the Customs in making it a success.

L. A. LYALL,
Commissioner of Customs.

MODERN DUPLICATORS

TO OPERATE THE "MODERN" DUPLICATOR-PRINTER

You simply make one original with pen or typewriter, using triple strength copying ink or typewriter ribbon, or copying pencil as if it were the only one you wanted, then put that one on the Duplicator—writing side down—rub your hand or leveler over it to smooth it out evenly, allow it to remain on the Duplicator about two minutes and the writing is transferred to the Duplicator. You then take your letter or original writing or drawing off the Duplicator and put on blank sheets of paper, postal cards or cloth, one at a time, and run leveler or hand over same and perfect duplicate copies of the original will be printed. In this way you can print up to 75 duplicate copies from each original in 15 minutes; then when the duplicates begin to show up pale, simply erase the impression from the duplicator with damp sponge, and then if you want more of the same kind of duplicates, put on the first one (the original) that you wrote and repeat as above.

Siccawei Weather Reports

19.—The regular arrangement of antumnal monsoon is the same as yesterday, to the N of the 20th parallel. Guam gives signs of a new disturbance, between the Carolines and the Marianas; there the pressure gives way, with freshening ENE winds, in the midst of the rise of the N. Fine day and cool temperature in China; rain at the Philippines.

20.—The barometric rise continues, with moderate ENE monsoon. Cloudy weather with appreciable mist, but fine and cool morning.

MUNICIPAL NOTIFICATION

No. 2715.

SHANGHAI MUNICIPAL COUNCIL 6 PER CENT. STERLING LOAN, 1920.

Amount £750,000

Price of Issue £100 per cent.

UNDER the authority of Resolution VII passed at the Annual Meeting of Ratepayers on April 7, 1920, the Council hereby invites applications for Bearer Debentures (with coupons attached) in the 6 percent. Sterling Loan of 1920, which is issued on the following terms:—

(1) Debentures to Bearer, with Sterling interest coupons attached, will be issued at £100 percent in denominations of £1,000, £500, £100 and £50.

(2) The Debentures of this issue will bear interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum, payable on June 30 and December 31 in each year by sterling demand draft on London at par, or in silver (local currency) at the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation's Shanghai current demand buying rate on London on date of presentation of the relative coupon. The first payment of interest will be made on December 31, 1920.

(3) Applications, accompanied by payment in full, will be received by the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, No. 12 The Bund, on and after May 1, up to and including June 30, 1920, the Council reserving to itself the right of closing the subscription lists on any day previous to June 30, 1920, by Notification in the Municipal Gazette and Public Press of Shanghai.

(4) Payment on application will be accepted in Silver (local currency) at the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation's current selling T.T. rate on London and will bear interest from date of payment, or in Sterling by T.T. or Demand Draft on London. Interest on payments made in Sterling will only accrue from the date on which the relative remittances are received by the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, London.

The cost of all telegrams incurred through payment by Sterling T.T. shall be paid by the applicant.

Payment will be acknowledged by Banker's Receipt pending issue of the Debentures.

In the event of any applicant not being allotted the full amount applied for, the amount over-applied for will be repaid in full, plus interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the date payment was received in Shanghai or London to the due date of repayment in Shanghai, as notified to the applicant by special notice from the Council.

(5) The Loan will be redeemed at par on June 30, 1950, but may be redeemed by the Council in whole or in part on June 30, 1930, and/or on any subsequent date or dates on which the half-yearly interest is payable, subject to the Council giving six calendar months' notice in the Municipal Gazette and Public Press of Shanghai. In the event of any partial redemption of the loan the numbers of the Debentures to be redeemed will be decided by drawing. The numbers of such drawn Debentures will be notified in the Municipal Gazette and Public Press of Shanghai not less than three months prior to the date of repayment.

Application forms can be obtained on and after May 1, from the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, No. 12 The Bund, or from the Treasurer and Comptroller, Finance Department, 24B Kiangse Road, to whom all enquiries should be addressed.

By order,
N. O. LIDDELL,
Secretary.

KINGMAN & BROS.

How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth, some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr. KINGMAN to the subscribers consists in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly
(2) Filing with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

Varying Views On The League

DISCUSSION in our columns of the League of Nations issue which is now before the voters of the United States for decision November 2, becomes more interesting daily. We have received two letters deploring the fact of our having declared ourselves in favor of The League of Nations. But we think we are entitled to state our opinion in our own paper so long as we allow our readers the same privilege, and we hope that that sufficiently disposes of this particular argument. Do these two friendly objectors wish both our readers and ourselves to maintain a deathlike silence while what probably is the most important decision in recent American history is being debated?

We do not think that the covenant of the present league is perfect. Neither does President Wilson, and he has plainly said so. What he did think and say was that in his opinion it was the best that could be obtained at this time and therefore ought to be ratified in order that the League could be organised and set going.

Another letter which we wish to quote before replying to Mr. Sindeband's letter of Saturday, follows:

"Sir.—Mr. Sindeband's letter in today's issue was read with much interest and it is felt that in your question "How do they get that way?" that you are reading into Mr. Sindeband's lines a meaning that was not the writer's intent. Prior to the Great War a sort of peace reigned throughout the world and Mr. Sindeband is evidently hoping that a return to this condition is a possibility; however, it is felt that Mr. Sindeband is an optimist and this feeling is strengthened by his request that the question be approached with "an open mind." How any one other than a partisan of the deepest dye can support the Democratic Party at this time is to the undersigned a mystery.

"I believe that the people of the United States are going to return the Republican Party to full power and that Party will present to the world a solution of the issue that will meet with the approval of the Great Powers. You endeavor to becloud the issue when you state that the Republican Party is against a League. What they are opposed to is the signing away of the liberties of the American people. "Admitting that in the past the Monroe Doctrine would have been without force without the support of the British Empire, for which we are grateful, I believe that final decision on the Doctrine rests with the United States of America. Very truly yours,

"NATHAN O. NOAH."

Now in the first place we do not think we misread Mr. Sindeband's letter. If he is against all leagues of nations, these columns are open to him to state his reasons. He is, as we read his letter, taking the position that many other Americans are taking. He is against the present league and would like to help break it up in order that later, when the world has quieted down, a new league could be formed. Our contention is that the present league offers the machinery by which the world may be enabled to settle down. It offers the only machinery available. And to throw a monkey wrench into it in order to wreck it with the object of building a new and better plant afterwards, is tantamount to choosing the major of two evils. If we say that the present league is unsatisfactory to us, we can go into it as a leader and help in the correction of its evils. Or we can stay out of it. But we cannot break it up. On the other hand it may break up because of our decision to stay out of it. What would be the position then? Another great war would have to be fought, and we would have to go in again.

As we pointed out the other day, this league ought to be called The League of Nations to Prevent War, for that was the primary object that actuated President Wilson and the American people when they sponsored it, and it was the primary object of all the nations that supported it at the time of its formation and that subsequently joined it. Listening to the way some people discuss the league nowadays, one is led to the conclusion that they think its purpose is to promote war. Yet even now, before it has held its first meeting, it is, through its Supreme Council, functioning daily to restore peace to Europe. Destroy this league now and what is left in the way of machinery for promoting peace? Let us admit that the situation in Europe is bad. Would it not be far, far worse, if the Supreme Council had not been called into existence?

Further, if you have power to break up this league with the praiseworthy object of forming a better one, have you not power to go into this one and make it better?

Furthermore, some of our readers accuse us of not approaching this issue with an open mind. We are inclined to think that the shoe is on the other foot. THE CHINA PRESS has been for the League from the beginning, and so were the Democratic and Republican parties and nearly all of the people of the United States for a long time. Some were for the league without reservations and some were for it with reservations. All of the leaders of the Republican party excepting the Johnson-Borah clique were for the league with reservations. They are still for A league but not THIS league.

Mr. Noah presents no solution. He merely demands that the Democrats be thrown out and the Republicans put in. He bases this demand on his belief that the democrats "will sign away the liberties of the American people," while the Republicans won't. Let us assure Mr. Noah that no such thing will happen, no matter which party is successful in the present campaign, and he probably knows it as well as we do.

As a matter of fact by going into the League we confirm ourselves in all our possessions and in case any nation should desire to try issue with us over them or any of them, that nation would have to give us, one way or another, a couple of years' notice. And what nation is going to war with us if it has to give us that much notice. The object of the League, as we say, is to prevent war.

But Mr. Noah's last paragraph is his gem. We beg to direct special attention of it. "Admitting that in the past the Monroe Doctrine would have been without force without the support of the British Empire, for which we are grateful, I believe that final decision on the Monroe Doctrine rests with the United States of America."

Mr. Noah probably has in his mind the Manila Bay incident, which had nothing whatever to do with the Monroe Doctrine. If he will go back just a bit more into history he will discover that in the controversy with Great Britain, Grover Cleveland established once and for all that the American Navy, backed by the full manhood and resources of America, was the bulwark of the Monroe Doctrine and none else.

Getting back to Mr. Sindeband's letter, we find that he is still trying to prove that the League of Nations is not the paramount issue. The Republicans tried to bury it as the issue, and made it the last plank in their platform and as he says, George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, tried on July 20 to claim that it was a secondary issue, although the Democratic Party platform made it the supreme issue. But both Harding and Cox in their speeches of acceptance made it the paramount issue.

And as for Reed, Walsh and the 40 percent of Democratic senators who favored reservations, they are all supporting Cox.

Mr. Sindeband further along voices the belief that the League of Nations "will not and properly should not, be the issue in the present election." There are many domestic issues to be straightened out.

As we said the other day, our domestic issues can be straightened out in the future, but whether we go into or stay out of the league, whether we try to make this league a success or try to break it up in order to create another more to our liking, has got to be decided now. And at this point it seems only fitting to say that none of the big nations which have entered the league regards it as perfect from its own standpoint. They are all yielding something for the general peace. There is always a chance for peace so long as you have to give a year or two's notice before you begin throwing beer mugs.

On the point of whether THE League as against A league at some future date, should be the issue, in our opinion this issue is forced upon us, whether we want it or not, by the conditions that exist in the world and by the fact that many Central and South American republics are joining the league. They are taking the Monroe Doctrine to Europe, (or bringing Europe to America if you like,) and welding it into a World Doctrine.

How can we help making the League of Nations the issue when this is happening? The fighting point of the Monroe Doctrine was and is that we object to a big and powerful nation in Europe jumping on and subjugating a weak and struggling republic in America. When these little nations which we were protecting decide to go into the League of Nations what are we to do about it? Shall we go in with them or let them entrust their destinies elsewhere? Can we say to them: "You shall not go in?" Do we deny them the right of self-determination?

As a matter of fact no single nation can impose its will on the world. Germany tried that. The world it seems to us has come to the point where it understands this. No individual does as he pleases. The moment he starts out to do as he pleases, the police pounce on him. And so it will be and ought to be with nations.

That other leagues have failed is no argument. Our correspondent, Mr. Sindeband, seems to think that there will always be war because all other leagues have failed. But certainly he wishes to keep on trying. Why not try this league? If it fails we can always try another one, providing there are any of us left.

Correspondence

RESPECTFULLY REFERRED TO THE AUTHORITIES

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: I wish to seek your valuable assistance in securing some information which racing enthusiasts who attended the Kiangwan race meeting on Saturday are all anxious to have.

After the last race was over, as the large crowd was surging out of the exits to the course, I saw a pecular incident which can only happen in this part of the world without resulting in a riot.

Two foreigners, apparently under the influence of liquor, were seated in a public motor car, demanding a a ride without paying for it. The shroff pleaded for their fare but was abused and called all kinds of names. A number of people gathered round the car as a matter of curicsity, and the two foreigners were finally obliged to vacate their seats.

However, as they left the car they hit every Chinese who stood in their way. One of them especially beat up the on-lookers most valiantly. At length, he bumped himself against a Chinese couple.

The Chinese protested; whereupon both the Europeans leaped on him with clinched fists. The Chinese crowd stood by; several protesting voices were heard but none interfered, apparently because they did not want themselves to be assaulted in the same way.

The Chinese victim had no alternative but to run. The same hero who started the assault drew his gun and was apparently on the point of using it when the weapon was seized by an approaching Chinese constable of the Kiangwan police force.

Both the culprits were taken to the Kiangwan police station, together with the gun. A crowd followed.

The Chinese complainant and three or four other victims accompanied the constables and the trouble-makers.

Preliminary inquiries showed that the two foreigners were both members of the Shanghai Municipal Police, so they were escorted to the Kungho Road Police Station in Chapei, which communicated with the police authorities in Shanghai. The last I heard was that the two constables were handed over to the Municipal Police.

I note with interest the presence of members of the Settlment police doing police duty in Kiangwan on Race days. No incident of a serious nature like the one I saw has yet been reported. But the propriety of the presence of Settlement Police might well be questioned.

Why are they there? Why are they armed? And above all, why are drunken constables allowed to be armed and to do police duty in Kiangwan?

Perhaps you can enlighten me on these questions, as well as inform me as to the final results of the incident, to which, up to the present, no publicity has been given. Enclosing my card, I am, Yours etc.,

"INDIGNANT."

AN INTERESTING VOTE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: In American universities, there are elections every year for the most perfect and the most beautiful students. These titles are of high honor, and the former one always goes to the man, while the latter runs to the "co-ed." They are the stars of the university and models for their followers, and the symbol of the whole student body as seen by outsiders, just as in John Bull for England or Uncle Sam for United States. Surely this is an interesting social amusement and impels the undergraduates to get friendly with their colleagues; the common tendency is that, owing to the vast number, one student does not know personally over one-tenth of the whole body.

Now this sort of election was launched in China this morning in Nanyang College. The election is under the auspices of the Nanyang Students' Association, and every member of the faculty and staff and every student has a vote. The ballot box will be opened on the coming Wednesday; but only one name is to be honored for "perfect" morally, physically, intellectually and socially, as the other honor should go to a "co-ed," whom Nanyang has not got yet. I will report you the name of the successful student and if possible, I will send you his photo.

I think this is a very interesting experiment with numerous advantages towards keeping the students active in every respect, so I hope every college and university will have the election proclaimed. For the girls' school, I hope they will elect their "beauty" for the fame of both the school and the students—and of the girl herself. Yours sincerely,

JAMESON Y. CHANG.

FIRST AND LAST

A teacher was reading to her class when she came across the word "Unaware." She asked if anyone knew the meaning.

One small girl timidly raised her hand, and gave the following definition. "'Unaware' is 'what you put on first and take off last."

WORTH THE DOING

There are some who drift out in the deserts of doubt,
And some who in brutishness wallow;
There are others, I know, who in piety go,
Because of a Heaven to follow.
But to labor with zest, and give of your best,
For the sweetness and joy of the giving;
To help folks along with a hand and a song:
Why, there's the real sunshine of living.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF?

Mr. J. H. Read of Middlesex, England, writes:

"It may interest the readers of 'John Bull' to know that in 1348, when famine was rampant in England, prices of meat and provisions were hung up in every market place, and on every church door in the country, with the death penalty for profiteering."

JUST LIKE A MAN

How wretched men are when placed in false positions! Nobody likes it, of course, but a woman can generally get out of it. Men think straighter than women, but not so fast. I dined one night on shipboard with the captain of the transport on which I came back from France, and there was an Army chaplain at the table. So, as chaplains frequently say grace before meat, I put a hand on the knee of a young male member of my family beside me and kept it there, ready for a squeeze to admonish silence. But the chaplain did not say grace, and the man on my right turned out to be a perfectly strange general in a state of helpless uneasiness. I have a suspicion that not even the absolute impeccability of my subsequent conduct convinced him that I was not a designing woman.

Some Errors Of Exporters

The following story from a New York newspaper on the offenses of American exporters against their foreign customers may be of benefit to business men in China who are exporting goods to other lands:

One of the most familiar stories told of the export experiences of American firms new to the business concerns the shipment of some merchandise to a country up the Amazon River in South America. The natives in that section had their usual share of superstitious beliefs, among which was the one that green was the color of the evil spirits. Of all the shades of packing cloth the exporter might have used, he made the unfortunate choice of green and when the trader received the goods after their long journeying he was forced to return them or face the alternative of having his store burned down over his head.

ILLUSTRATIVE STORY

The story was told to illustrate how much study has to be devoted to the peculiar minds of a country and its inhabitants before business can be done with them. Perhaps there was more need for citing examples and driving home the necessity of studying foreign markets when the domestic exporters were newer to the business, but even now those who see constant mistakes being made believe that the lesson has not been fully learned. There are still instances, it is said, of hosiery being shipped to South America in boxes, when buyers in that country require them to be delivered merely wrapped in paper. The buyers are not being "finicky" about the way hosiery is packed, but they have to pay duty on boxes which they could avoid by having the goods put up in paper. And, referring to methods of packing, there is still trouble reported in getting merchandise into containers that are not too heavy to be carried over rough and mountainous country. Some exporters, it is said, continue to be obstinate and pack goods 500 pounds to the case when the native carriers have almost what amounts to a union rule to load up with but sixty pounds.

MANUFACTURERS BUNGLE

Manufacturers who wish to sell their products in even so well known a country as England are apt to bungle essential details. A good instance came to hand in the project of a manufacturer to sell toy engines to English boys. His engines were pronounced good and well able to compete with any of their kind. However, the types he made, such as the "Twentieth Century" and other well-known American trains were unknown in England. It was pointed out to him by the representative of an English concern that, first of all, the names of the different "fliers" would have to be changed to correspond with those known to English children. Another detail was that the English roads all have their distinctive colors, which, with the ornamentation done by the engineers in their spare time, are quite a matter of pride to the railroad men. With these changes and certain others, the American product ought, in the opinion of the foreign adviser, to create quite a field for itself.

Just because this country was the only one that had goods to deliver, foreign agents testify, is no guarantee of future success for American products in other markets. In fact, it is pointed out that many objections which foreign buyers had to American merchandise were waived because of circumstances that prevented supplies being obtained from accustomed sources. Efforts should be redoubled, it is stated, to learn the requirements of export markets if the progress that has been made is going to count.

No Snow On Mars

Paris, August 14.—It is not snowing on Mars, according to Camille Flammarion, France's veteran star gazer, who has taken up the scientific cudgels against American and British astronomers who thus explain the reappearance of the vast white spot on the planet.

M. Flammarion says the temperature there at this time of the year is nearly as comfortable as is at Deauville or Atlantic City, and also ridicules the idea that Martians have found a new method of signalling the earth. The savant contends the spot is merely a plateau higher than Thibet, which has not been seen since 1679, due to atmospheric obscurity.

British Blundering And Sinn Fein Malice In Ireland

LABOR AND SINN FEIN

Second in importance to the hierarchy and priests in its relation to Sinn Fein is the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union. The adhesion of this large body, composing, with the families of the men, nearly one-fourth of the population of Ireland, is necessary to Sinn Fein domination. But labor in Ireland is even less affected with Sinn Fein sympathies than the hierarchy and priests. It has been carried by the success of the movement and is willing to go along with it until a crossroads is reached when labor plans to lead in a different direction. Sinn Fein rests upon patriotic ardor. The vision of an Irish republic is the thing that stirs the Sinn Fein heart and gives the movement solidarity. Organised labor is looking ahead to Soviet government. Its movement is neither religious, racial nor sectional, and when the time comes it counts on tremendous support from labor in Ulster. Labor reckons that the realisation of republicanism in Ireland will be more favorable for Bolshevism than would British rule. The Transport Union is therefore an independent and perhaps only a temporary ally of Sinn Fein.

There is still a third body and one not inconsiderable. This is composed of followers of Sinn Fein who had been picked up on the wave of enthusiasm produced by success. Such adherence lacks conviction and sincerity and cannot be counted on in difficulties.

A fourth element temporarily absorbed by Sinn Fein is composed of Nationalists. This party, so long represented in Parliament and possessing such great influence in legislation, has momentarily disappeared in Ireland, but the principles for which it stood still exist, and upon favorable opportunity will again assert themselves. Most business men and small landowners are said to be still Nationalists at heart and believe in a solution along the lines of a dominion.

With all these separate elements Sinn Fein has been able until now to maintain the appearance of unity. The leaders are too sagacious not to recognise the dangers arising from forces of disintegration within their ranks. The best observers that I could find in Ireland believe that the purpose of Sinn Fein was to bring the effort for Irish independence to a climax within the next few months. The leaders had been trying to maintain and increase their strength in the hope that matters may reach a culminating point while the various conditions that favor them still exist.

AMERICA'S INFLUENCE

I should reckon the most important of these conditions as the present sympathetic attitude of America. I have seen figures estimating the Irish-American element as nigh as 14,000,000 but a reliable statistician has given an Ulster leader an estimate of 4,000,000. The Irish leaders consider that the influence of the Irish-American voters, plus that of a considerable portion of the German-American, will be tremendously helpful to them. They also count on the considerable anti-British sentiment in America. They even hope that a quarrel and perhaps a war between America and Britain can be fomented. They are receiving and will probably continue to receive substantial financial aid from the United States. Many people believe that they are drawing on American talent for a part of the management of their movement which has been so practical and successful.

Another calculation is that the demand for Irish independence is addressed to the jury of world opinion with peculiar force at a time when the principle of self-determination figures so conspicuously. The Irish movement is pro-German in the sense that it is anti-British, but I do not believe with Sir Edward Carson that Sinn Fein is receiving any really valuable help from a country that is so divided and distracted that it is incapable of helping itself.

Of course the leaders count on the shakiness and the internal difficulties of the present British Government, as they count on the manifold difficulties which beset the British Empire itself.

There has undoubtedly been the hope in Ireland that British labor could be entangled with the Irish labor organisation. The fall of the Lloyd George Government has been ardently desired and a labor succession hoped for; it has been believed that these events in British politics would create a liquid situation in which there would be a greater chance of realising a revolutionary plan.

If all of these possibilities could become actualities the dream of an Irish republic might indeed come true, but it is asking a good deal of efficient management to join hands with such great luck.

SINN FEIN AMBITIONS

In the absence of de Valera, who is said to be acting as President without authority because not actually holding that office under the Constitution of the republican brotherhood, Arthur Griffith is acting in his place. Not only is the Parliament functioning and the Cabinet attending to business, but there are emissaries to foreign countries. Financiers are taken care of by the land bank, and Sir Horace Plunkett's scheme of co-operative farming is still being carried out, although the good influence of Plunkett himself has greatly declined. There are schemes for the regulation of inland trade that have reached an advanced theoretical stage. Other projects concern railroads, canals and rivers and the developing of coal and iron and other minerals which abound in the island. There are full-fledged schemes for improvement in labor conditions and arbitration. The "invisible republic" set up in December, 1918, was followed by a ratification of a formal declaration of independence. The heads of the movement profess to regard the Irish Republic as fait accompli. Its supporters are oath bound not to accept any offer of dominion home rule. Nothing short of independence will do. They say that Ireland's accepting an offer of dominion status would be as absurd as Holland accepting a similar offer from Germany.

Sinn Fein policy, as explained to me by those in a position to know, is:

(1) To create a self-supporting nation.

(2) To secure the recognition of that nation by the world.

(3) To establish permanent order and prosperity by emancipation from alien rule.

Separation is the keystone in the arch of Sinn Fein policy.

Clubs have been organised all over the country—they are said to number thousands—to effectuate these Dail Eireann policies. All this effort is in a water-tight compartment entirely apart from that of carrying out the program of violence. This latter is organised under a different management, and economic and industrial activities were not corrupted by the business of murder, and the business of murder is not weakened by any touch with the economic and industrial activities. If one can overlook the shootings in the back, and the general lawlessness, he cannot help admire the thoroughness and efficiency with which Sinn Fein has organised and carried out its movement. While the work has been going on hundreds of those who were engaged in it have been arrested as criminals, which makes the results accomplished all the more remarkable.

I went to see Acting President Griffith of the invisible republic, and found him in a modest office piled high with books and pamphlets and much in need of the attention of a janitor. He has no attendants and no anteroom, and his visitors were sitting round waiting for a chance to talk to him. He is the plainest little man that one could imagine. He dresses in shabby clothes, and when he speaks seems to have difficulty in expressing himself. This is a difficulty that he does not have when he works as a pamphleteer. That is the work that mainly brought him into prominence in the Irish movement. There are some people in Dublin who will tell you that Arthur Griffith is the real brains of the republican movement, but others are just as sure that it is Professor John McNeil or some other man. I was not able to interview Mr. Griffith on account of the pressure of his engagements, but I obtained from other sources a summary of his views on present conditions.

Mr. Griffith regards the present Home Rule bill as sectarian. Under it a minority of one quarter—Ulster—will have a veto over the rest. The bill is an absolute negation of the Gladstone bill of 1885 and the Home Rule bill passed by the House of Commons in 1893 and vetoed by the House of Lords, and a partial negation of the bill of 1914. Under the bills of 1885 and 1893 Ireland remained a unit, and the proposed Irish Government was allowed to collect and control all Irish taxation except customs. In March, 1911, the Government appointed a Committee on Irish Finance. There were five English members, and Ireland was represented by Lord Pirrie, the great Belfast shipbuilder, and Dr. Kell, the Bishop of Ross, the foremost moderate in the hierarchy. This committee reported unanimously, first, that the Irish Government should have control of Irish customs and excises; second, that it should impose, collect and pay into its own Treasury all Irish taxation.

But the Government kept in the bill of 1914 British control of Irish customs and excise but provided that Irish taxation be collected by officials appointed from and responsible to Ireland. The apportionment of money was to be decided by a Joint Exchequer Board, two members appointed by the Irish Government, two by the English, and the Chairman "nominated by the King," thus giving control to the British Government. The excuse was that Irish revenue was less than expenditure.
